New in the 2019/2020 winter season: Dresden-London non-stop with Ryanair

Fly to the British capital in just two hours for shopping, sightseeing or a business appointment: Ryanair will be launching flights between Dresden and London Stansted on 29 October. This new low-cost route, on which Ryanair plans to operate a 189-seater Boeing 737-800, will be available on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Flights can be booked at www.ryanair.com, with prices starting from as little as € 24.

"London is one of the destinations repeatedly ranked as the most popular places to visit by representatives of the business and tourism sectors. We are therefore delighted that Ryanair is introducing this route, thus further expanding the number of low-cost flights on offer from Dresden," says Götz Ahmelmann, chairman of the boards of Mitteldeutsche Flughafen AG and Dresden and Leipzig/Halle Airports, adding: "We are hoping for lively demand for services to and from Dresden so that the route can be developed sustainably."

New low-cost flights from Dresden and Leipzig/Halle

On 13 June, Lauda launches a daily flight between Dresden and Palma de Mallorca, which will also run on Thursdays and Sundays during the winter season. Tickets for the summer can be booked online at www.laudamotion.com for as little as € 19.99.

Wizz Air, the leading low-cost airline in Central and Eastern Europe, will be flying from Leipzig/Halle Airport to the Ukrainian capital Kiev every Monday and Friday from 5 July. Flights can be booked on wizzair.com with prices starting at € 19.99.

Flughafen Dresden GmbH is a subsidiary of the Central German Airports Group with around 1.76 million passengers per year (2018).

Thanks to the direct access road from the A4 motorway, 3000 parking spaces right next to the terminal building and the S-Bahn station, passengers from Saxony, Southern Brandenburg, Northern Bohemia and Lower Silesia can get to the airport easily and comfortably.

Short and barrier-free routes are characteristic of the unique Dresden Airport Terminal, a former aviation industry hangar. Arrivals and Departures as well as service areas can all be found under one roof. It is also home to Dresden's biggest travel centre, the Gate 14 airport shop (www.gate14.de) and a conference and events centre with a panoramic view of aircraft on the apron. The customer service was awarded the "Service Quality in Germany" level II certificate by the Saxon Tourist Board.
